

Dorm Lingo and Culture

ACM: Short for All College Meeting. Although it may sound like everyone in the University comes over, this is a poorly named, yet greatly fun, event in which we all meet in the main lounge Sunday at 7pm to discuss dorm events and issues while in costume.

CA: Community ASSistant. They make sure that you are not breaking the law. Even though you may be frustrated with them, they are looking out for your safety or something like that.

CRC What?: People say this as an exclamation regarding our dorm. It has become slightly antiquated, but feel free to use it as often as you want.

Dingle: In the situation that your roommate leaves, you now own the best commodity known to man-- a dingle (double single).

Dormcest: Engaging in private alone conversations with a special friend who also lives in the dorm.

Fireside: Cool people come and talk to us about interesting subjects.

Hinman: Where we eat our food. It's right across the street. Mail comes here too!

Illumihinman: Top secret uber-party at the end of the year!

IM Sports: Play sports and stuff with Aaron Morse. Get a sweet shirt!

KTBOLT: A trophy given to the person of the week during each ACM.

Listserv: The e-mail thinger that lets you send messages to everyone in the dorm.

Medildos: A nickname for the "lovely" people who are journalism majors. They will frequently complain about all of the work they have to do for The Daily, North By Northwestern, Sports Night, WNUR Sports, WNUR News or the Chronicle (ha), but they chose to do it, so shut the hell up Medildos.

Munchies: An all dorm food-fest.

Non-Res: Someone who doesn't live in our dorm anymore, but still has keys because they love us so much.

Panquake: Top secret uber-party at the beginning of the year!

Points: You need them to get a good room in the dorm next year. You get points by attending ACMs, dorm events and by doing philanthropy.

Prospie: Little kids that come and play in the dorm for a little while.

Radiothon: A fundraiser at the end of fall quarter benefiting the American Heart Association through a 48-hour radio marathon. Hilarity ensues.

Recog: Watch movies in the screening room and get points!

RTVF: Radio Television and Film. The other popular major in our dorm. These kids often complain about film sets and stuff... but they chose to do it! Pretentious? yes.

WXRU: Our dorm's very own radio station.
