

This Awww Shit! Moment has been brought to you by CRC ACM 4/4/10

This edition of Res Life Mysteries 2010 brings you: NO ONE KNOWS ANYTHING ABOUT LAUNDRY. Can anyone explain to me how laundry and my meal plan are connected? Am I supposed to eat my socks? Is American Apparel the organic foods of laundry? Again, inexplicably, JBL has tons of quarters. You can also get them from Norris, but it's been really sunny lately and you wouldn't want to ruin that glow-in-the-dark skin thing you've been working on all winter quarter.

Admissions office wants to show new students CRC so they don't get their hopes up on getting a spacious room. Read: 2-green might have to...get cleaned

Next Sunday 6:30 Special Chair elections. Adding Green Chair (they rejected Orange Chair, sorry)

Announcements made: Coltrain will be around to provide ACMs with deep-voiced sass aaaaaaaaaaalllll next year. wooooo

Sarah's to-do list: she's getting' yo monies

Go Nolan! for updating the calendar. Go look now! (remember to zip up your fly before you leave the bathroom...sometimes I forget.)

Philanthropy: Newsletter thingy—Shaina wants to do it weekly. She's creeping on extra list servs to help find you philanthro-festivities. Like,

Relay for Life—it's like the old people version of DM. Arts Fest—you might get to paint on children. Is that legal? I don't know, but it's charitable. National Volunteer Week is enigmatic, so stay tuned.

Easter News: THERE WAS A HUNT. If you find any plastic eggs outside, don't worry, we don't have a flock of mysterious plastic candy animals procreating in our bushes. (Is that your first reaction? That's my first reaction.) Sort of hard boiled eggs were showcased, everyone is

Things we might be doing while pretending to run ACMs:

Ariana: cupcake blog, durr. Girl loves cupcakes.

Julie: thinking about Lettuce

Rebecca: looking at Peeps Sushi...for realsies

Shaina: <http://hipsterpuppies.tumblr.com/>

Nate: watching Sassy Gay Friend: Othello.

Kevin: plotting CRC A Capella's Exec board coup d'état . Don't pretend you're not planning it, Kevin. I know.

Sarah: she's actually in her room. She has a hologram programmed to show up at ACMs, CNN-style

Krislyn: microwaving ravioli

JBL: brainstorming what kind of moustache would best suit her dictatorship

Justin: Astronomy Picture of the Day. Don't judge, it's cool.

Coltrain: facebook chatting. You know it.

jealous. Sarah Lowe gets creative. JBL calls Krislyn "mass murderer". Why? WELL YOU SHOULD HAVE BEEN THERE.

Academic: Faculty Lunch April 12th, Monday 12 pm. You know you love you some Hinman. It's a win, man. (see what I did there? It's almost like this is a rap)

Ice cream munchies can complement your Disney Singalong experience! Thursday, April 15th, 8:30 pm.

WE GOT SOME MICROWAVES HELLS TO THE YEAH GO EQUIPMENT YOU'RE MY HEROES. We're buying more cool stuff. Eureka the Boss Super Wide Something Something Vacuum Cleaners!!!! HOLY CRAP ARE YOU PUMPED?! The level of excitement I feel for getting Boss vacuum cleaners has not been reached by my emotional register since I saw the "Party in the U.S.A." video for the first time. Also, bike and ball pump. Hawt.

PRIZES: Thanks for nobody taking my advice and getting a Bunny costume, guys. Dropped the ball there, didn't you? ACM prize #1 goes to Sarah Lowe, who was a go-getter and Google searched the Northwestern Trampoline Policy.

P.S. If you see a trampoline outside within the next few weeks, go ahead and jump on it, but if anyone asks, it's the Spanish Department's. (Tell me you can't see Joel Colom-Mena jumping on a trampoline...)

Matthew likes warm weather. He does not like falling down in the rain. Nor does he like Medilldos who do not stop to help him up. Sorry Matt, she was probably too busy trying to open THAT GODDAMN DOOR.

Jen takes the easy road out and shows me an internet bunny. At least someone is trying.

KTBOLT: Meital has a fun weekend, but I win for almost being abducted on the EI at 1 pm on a Sunday. (Mostly because someone who was actually supposed to win didn't show up.) I've been waiting all year to do something stupid enough to get the KTBOLT. If only I knew I just had to talk to strangers, I would have gotten it way sooner.

Good Moment: We talked about pee. JBL reads too fast or pees too fast. You have to space that shit out. (shit? Really? Good choice in words, Shaunacy, good choice)

Fun Facts: (i.e. Things I can't verify but found on the internet)

Battle of the Fairchilds: ISRC has a fake fire place. Why aren't we that classy?

TYPEWRITER is the longest word that can be made using only the letters on the top row of a computer keyboard.

In the USA an average of 55,700 people are injured by their own jewelry every year.

Why are you still showing up, guys? Oh, right, because otherwise you'll never gain the fame and glory associated with being in the minutes.
