

This Awww Shit! Brought to you by ACM 4/12/10

FELLOWSHIPZ: Roger passed out a list of fellows to evaluate for next year. I don't think I've ever heard of those people ever, let alone seen them. Roger said there are "some obvious keeps." Others not so much. This feels like "Survivor" a bit, as if we're voting them off the island. But sucks for them, as I'm not sharing my immunity idol. So. In conclusion. Have a cool professor you think should be added? Should we take someone off? There's no cost to having somebody on the list, but we want to make people involved in our community. Coltrain wants to make some mandatory fellow events to make sure we're really connecting with them. One fireside and one excursion minimum CAN U HANDLE DIS MR. FELLOW?

TUTORIAL: A lot of open spots! Sign up ASAP! You get to meet at David Abrahamson's kitchen table. He said it was one of the best classes he's ever taken and he still keeps in touch with students. Don't you want to bond with one of Medill's senior faculty? Ride that journalism tiger. That's a reference to the name of class, BTW, not some inappropro joke about the professor. I am sure he is ferocious in the field of journalism, however.

EXCURSIONS

Two weeks from this past Friday, you can go to the Timeline Theater to see a play about the invention of television. The tutorial class for this quarter is also coming so make sure to bond with us and Professor Whitaker. You should also take participate in a letter-writing campaign to Coco because she said she would make me cookies and she hasn't yet. Shame. Also, there's a bike ride down to Chicago on the Sunday of Memorial Day weekend. Yes, that is the day after Dillo Day. No, it's not that bad because you'll actually be going to bed early that night because of all the ~~drinking~~ bands you're going to see. We're just a bunch of sober sallies over here, so no worries.

COLTRAIN: He hears lots of stuff because people come to him with their personal problems and deeply disturbing emotional issues. So there's a group of people who are sort of put off by the weirdness of CRC and ACMS and just aren't into it by this point in the year. It's possible that they are maybe a little bit intimidated by our hardcore friendships, but some of it is that they have a sour attitude and they're like "You're weird," but really it's like "I'm a jerk." We're not a bunch of freaks. If anything, Coltrain said we're more conventional than regimes in the past. So just be mindful of how we market ourselves.

Also, if we are to continue dressing up at ACMS, we need to step it up or not do it all. So next year let's hit the beginning hard and reestablish that tradition or just decide not to make it part of the routine. Editor's note: I think our themes are awesome so please take advantage of them.

JUSTIN: You have to be out of the dorms by Saturday June 12th at 6 p.m. That's the latest you can be here. Why is he bringing this up now? It's really depressing. I have friends who have already returned home and it's depressing as hell. Also, read those Dillo Day guest e-mails. Google doc info coming soon.

BILLIE: ASG is sending out a survey to try and get a new student center in Deering Meadow. Or the parking lot that's more north than that. Money is being reallocated. Morty is totes in o it.

FUTURE ACMS: Bo Burnham rescheduling. We're just gonna have exec at a different time, or have an open exec. It'll be at 3. NEvermind it's at 5:30 and we're getting dinner together. Hinman partay.

NSW: Freshman go to six flags for free. We can reserve as many tickets as we want for returning students. Tickets are $30, but CRC will subsidize. We voted on it. We might be encroaching on freshman time, but A) it's Six Flags and B) we can bond with them. That's a good thang.

PERSON OF PHILANTHROPIC INTEREST: Cake, decorations, games. It is happening. Bring it on. And you should definitely donate because said person is an integral part of our lives whether you appreciate it or not.

T-SHIRT DESIGN: They have gotten some. GET SOME! May 12th is the deadline, but we may or may not be extending it until later because we do have time for it. But send stuff in, we can always polish it up if you don't think it's very good.

ALUMNI: We haz them. Do we want to connect with them? We're basically going to kick this up a notch and maybe start an alumni chair. Talk to JBL if you want to connect with former CRCs.

YEARBOOKS: Other dorms are having yearbooks, Slivka is doing online year-book because they are broke broke. Entrusting me with a yearbook is probably a really bad idea. In Kindergarten I wrote "bad" or "good" next to the photo of every single one of my classmates based on who I thought my friends were and my mom found it and gave me a stern talking to and told me I was mean and I cried. I was 5.

SOCIAL: Pancakes and bacon this saturday. Earlier today Krislyn was like "Does bacon have calcium?" Speaking of dumb questions, here is a list of things found in Yahoo's question and answer forum. Try to contain your judgment, these are poor souls looking for some guidance.

- 1. If I break my nose, and heal it, would it be like getting a nose job? If I broke the bridge of my nose, and it naturally has a bump on it? Would it heal more flat ?*
- 2. Do Hamsters dream? The reason why I asked is that when my hamster is asleep he switches and squeaks.*
- 3. How do you ask questions on here?*
- 4. How do you boil water?*
- 5. How can I change the race of my baby? I just got pregnant so I think it's not too late?*
- 6. What does air smell like?*
- 7. Do fish get thirsty?*
- 8. Do Americans have accents? I'm going to England this December and I want to know if people will know that I'm not from there.*

PHILO: Relay For Life is next weekend. They have $250. They need $1,000 to get t-shirts. Time to call up your rich uncle and seduce some benefactors. PRO BONO. Oh yeah.

DRESS UP

Kaitlyn was like, "I'm Joe Celentino." GET IT? Then Krislyn played a slutty camp counselor while Aliza explained a story about said counselor doing things to guy who she thought was another guy. Best part of the story was when Jai asked hesitantly, "...is that rape?" It really sealed the deal for the prize. I said something crude about a staff member and I regret the error but it was actually really funny at the same time though. Although, again, lesson learned. Hi Kwanda. ACM Prize will be revealed when Shaunacy returns from #GUMBOJAMZ.

KT BOLT

Kaitlyn wins the KT Bolt for her knee-smashing injury and her subsequent tweet: I know my life is too @CRCWhat-centric when I'm at the hospital thinking, "I'm going to get the KT BOLT for this."
